AUSTRALIA

It's time to Exit the W.H.O

Australia is at risk of losing its sovereignty to the World Health Organisation (W.H.O.) due to proposed changes to the World Health Assembly's (WHA's) International Health Regulations (IHR) even if Australia votes against the proposed changes. These amendments and the Zero Draft CA+ (Pandemic Treaty) which is a separate issue, also of concern, are under negotiation right now!

The W.H.O wants to become a legislative authority instead of an advisory board, giving them extraordinary powers that are binding on all Australians. Get up to date information and join other True Blue Aussies at Australia Exits the W.H.O. Send postcards, subscribe to the newsletter, contact your local representative and get plenty of information regarding Australia Exits the W.H.O.
